NEWSPAPER PICTURE AT HIRTLE'S THEATRE WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6th, 8 P.M.

Take an evening off Wednesday next to visit Hirtle's Theatre and in addition to the regular Bill provided see through the kind co-operation of Mr. Doug Hirtle, the many details that go to the production of your Home Town Newspaper—that serves you every week in the year in heat or cold, snow, rain, ice or blizzard.

It is a far cry from the home town Weekly whose press turns out your paper at from 1200 to 1500 sheets per hour to that of the Metropolitan Dailies whose presses turn out 100,000 papers of 50 or more pages per hour, but we are inclined to feel the Home Town Weekly is nearer the hearts of its readers than is the Chicago Tribune, the Montreal Gazette or many of the large Metropolitan Dailies.

We ask your forbearance if for this one occasion we "Toot our own Horn" a bit more than is our custom.

It has been frequently stated that the Home Town Weekly records the activities, the steps of progress, the community's general and individual efforts in such a manner which makes of that community, town and countryside, one large collective family.

The Paper takes joy in publishing all the news of progress of the district, rural and town. The success of any individual or movement is happily recorded and the activities that go to make the sum total of the life of the community finds welcome space in our columns.

Have you ever stopped to think that without the Printing Press, the Bible and Hymn Books of our Church Services would not exist—that our Schools would not be equipped with the multifold books they possess were it not for the printing press. That our Town and Municipal Councils need Printed forms to transact their numerous negotiations. That our business places each must needs have the product of the press in order that they may satisfactorily carry on their various lines of business, again the product of the press.

Many columns of space are donated to the purpose of any needy cause and worthy endeavour.

And in conclusion the Publishers and Staff of your Local Home Town Weekly feel some pride and gratification in believing they are giving a service that is of benefit to the community and we trust a source of some pleasure.

Dean Snell At St. Michaels

St. Michael's and All Angels Church celebrated the Festival of their Patron Saint in a very fitting service Wednesday evening.

Dean Snell of Calgary was the guest speaker. He delivered a very thoughtful and appropriate sermon basing his remarks from a passage in Revelation—where St. John the Divine describes the forces of good fighting with and overcoming the forces of evil.

Dean Snell first mentioned the beauty of expression of St. John the Divine.

He then drew the parallel of the name and said St. Michael and All Angels has a high standard to live up to.

Mentioning the opposing forces in the life of the individual and the world, he gave in his concluding remarks the assurance that the good will prevail, quoting the words of St. Stephen "He who is for me is more than they who are against me."

S'more Students Form Council

The annual election of officers for the Strathmore Students' Union was held on Sept. 27. After the platform of the different candidates for president were heard the Union elected Enid Baldwin as their president for this year. The other officers were as follows:

Vice-President, William Gronberg, Treasurer, Jim Bazant, Secretary, Bernice Welshimer. Press Representative, Douglas MacKenzie. Room Representatives: Grade XII, Allan Edwards, Grade X, Evelyn Riddon, Grade IX, Frances Bennett.

The Students decided that this year's main project would be a School Magazine.

Thresher Burns

What may have proved to be a disastrous fire Monday afternoon was stopped in due time by the help of neighbors.

Threshing was proceeding on the Christofferson farm next to the Mercer's when a fire started in the machine. It spread quickly to the stack and surrounding stubble as a fairly strong wind was blowing at the time.

Seeing the blaze the neighbors all rushed to give a helping and soon got the fire out. A ditch was also ploed around the fire area to prevent any further spread.

The fire at its height looked serious, but owing to the kindly help of all the neighbors, it was put out before any real serious damage occurred.

C.N.I.B. Tag Day

The Tag Day for the Blind held on the streets of Strathmore Saturday last netted the sum of $144.71. The House to House Canvas commenced Monday with the following ladies participating: Mrs. O. Wright, Mrs. John Keeling, Mrs. Kate Hill, Mrs. Boissevain, Mrs. Jas Harwood, Mrs. Cayn Robinson, Mrs. Sam Slater and the Misses Frances Gray Jean Garrett and Violet Luggs.

Y. P. Meet

On Sunday evening some twenty young people gathered at the home of Miss Jean Garrett, belted on "fool's fun" (both of which were abundantly supplied). Highlight of the evening was a signature hunt which took the group out on a merry chase around town, only to lead them right back to where they had started, where the "treasure" was shortly unearthed and enjoyed by the entire group.

Main business of the evening was the election, which resulted in the following new slate of officers: President—Dorothy Scott, Vice-Pres—

Wedding

Hamilton—East Nuptials Held In Wetaskiwin

Amid a profusion of autumn flowers, the marriage of Miss Lona Eileen East, R.N., daughter of Mrs. Edith A. East and the late Mr. William East of Wetaskiwin, to Mr. Horace Edwin Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Hamilton of High River, was solemnized recently in First United Church, Wetaskiwin, by the Rev. Rowan D. Blinling.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Gordon East, the bride wore a white broadened satin floor-length gown with sweetheart neckline, lily-point sleeves and draped peplum. Her floor-length silk net veil adorned with satin inserts was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore lace mittens and carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and pink roses. Her only ornament, a double strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Patricia East, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Mr. Arthur Hamilton or Calgary, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Mr. Lloyd East and Mr. Gunnar Aasen ushered the guests.

Mrs. C. Condie presided at the organ and Mrs. F. Atkinson sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Following the service at the church, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. In charge of the bride's table was her aunt, Mrs. J. Dewey Soper.

Also serving the guests were Mrs. G. Aasen, Miss Mona East, and Mrs. Lloyd East, sisters of the bride.

Mr. Blinling offered grace and Mr. Arthur Hamilton proposed the toast to the bride.

For a trip to the Pacific coast and the United States, the bride wore a tailored suit of gray gabardine with navy accessories and a corsage of red roses. Her top coat was in cherry red wool. Upon their return they will reside in Strathmore.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ansley King, Mrs. Maude Sorenson, Mrs. Way, all of High River; Miss Vera Alho, R.N.; Mrs. G. Aasen, Miss Mona East, and Mrs. Lloyd East, sisters of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ansley King, Mrs. Maude Sorenson, Mrs. Way, all of High River; Miss Vera Alho, R.N.; Mrs. G. Aasen, Miss Mona East, and Mrs. Lloyd East, sisters of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ansley King, Mrs. Maude Sorenson, Mrs. Way, all of High River; Miss Vera Alho, R.N.; Mrs. G. Aasen, Miss Mona East, and Mrs. Lloyd East, sisters of the bride.

In the evening Mrs. East, mother of the bride, was at home to friends. Pouring coffee in the dining room were Mrs. Hamilton, mother of the bridegroom and Mrs. Ansley King, cousin of Mrs. East.

Hostess for the evening was Miss Jean Garrett, assisted by Bill Bates. The next meeting will be held on October 17th, with Irene Langdale and Barbara Davidson acting as hostesses.

Gleichen Legion Meet

About one hundred Legion members and Auxiliary members of South Western District of Zone 4 of the Provincial Branch of the Canadian Legion were in attendance at the Rally held in Gleichen Thursday evening.

The Zone comprises the branches of Brooks, Bassano, Queenstown, Strathmore, Rockyford, Armada, Standard and Gleichen.

The Rally opened by singing the National Anthem followed by two minutes silence for fallen comrades. The Legion President, R. H. Hunter, gave the Address of Welcome, and the speakers were introduced by Dr. W. R. Sawyer of Brooks in the absence of W. C. Hall.

Chief Speaker—Prov. Pres. S. Carl Heckbert outlined the advantages of the Legion and urged them to strengthen their groups and stick together. Geo. E. Cleaver, First Vice-President of the Provincial Body, traced the history and growth of the organization. The Rally was called by Zone Commander W. C. Hall. During the Rally Dr. Sawyer of Brooks was elected Zone Commander to succeed W. C. Hall.

Lunch was served by the Gleichen Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion.

HYDRO ELECTRIC POWER

Owing to the recent radio announcements that Hydro Power must needs be conserved in parts of the Province of Ontario and the State of New York the following article from the Christian Science Monitor will be of much interest.

ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY Interest Picks Up In Vast Project By Charles A. Bowman

Cobble Hill, British Columbia. A great electrical engineer, Charles P. Steinmetz, is credited with the prediction that the St. Lawrence river would someday be the strategic artery of commerce of the western world.

The St. Lawrence seaway is a development plan to open up a navigable channel of 27 feet or more in depth over the entire 2,350 miles from Duluth on Lake Superior, or from Chicago up Lake Michigan, to the open Atlantic at the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Actually, nature has already provided 90 per cent of this waterway. There is work to be done on about 120 miles to open the seaway right through for ocean shipping and the largest freighters of the upper lakes.

There are signs of more immediate interest, however, in the St. Lawrence project as an undeveloped source of hydro-electric power, a project which has the support of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, as well as responsible authorities on the Canadian side. For the St. Lawrence development is an international project, to be undertaken in neighborly copartnership between Canada and the United States.

Shortage Points Up Desirability

Power shortages in parts of New York State and in the Province of Ontario have lately tended to bring out the desirability of going ahead with this development. It would yield 2,200,000 horsepower at a single site, within convenient delivery distance southward to serve millions of domestic and industrial consumers in New York and neighboring states, and similarly northward into Canada.

The St. Lawrence project has long been the subject of study and active planning by Canadian and United States engineering authorities, and jointly by Canada and the United States through an International Joint Commission and other boards.

Messages and statements in favor of the project have been given by Presidents Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, Roosevelt, and Truman. Testimony and reports have been submitted at congressional hearings by Secretaries of State Cordell Hull, Edward Stettinius, and James F. Byrnes.

Since Canada is no less favorable to St. Lawrence development, it would seem strange that actual building work has been so long delayed. It has taken much time, however, to determine that the St. Lawrence shall be brought into service as an international heritage, for the benefit of the people of North America in common.

Great Engineering Feat Involved

The work will be a great engineering feat along the New York-Ontario frontier. The development will make use of the entire outflow of the Great Lakes along the expanse of the St. Lawrence river, where the rapids begin at Chimney island—below the northern New York city of Ogdensburg—to Cornwall, on the Ontario side about 60 miles further down.

The St. Lawrence seaway envisions an ambitious undertaking. A mighty torrent is to be transformed into a placid lake, navigated by ships of commerce through a fertile and peaceful land. Model towns and villages will be built to replace such communities as Iroquois and Aultsville, Sheek island, and Mille Roches, which will be flooded out by the project.

With an abundance of white coal—cheap hydro-electric power—at hand, when the St. Lawrence rapids are harnessed, the vision of North America's great international artery of commerce may well be consummated.

In Others' Words

With Pride And Humility

(From The Vernon (B.C.) News)

This week, several thousand citizens of Vernon, its district, and the Okanagan saw a film "short" which had as its theme the way in which a town weekly reflects the life of the community it serves. The Vernon 'News' was the newspaper selected by the National Film Board and the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association as the subject of this study. The film will be shown all across Canada, throughout the United States and in many countries of the world.

Perhaps the Vernon 'News' should feel proud of its role in this picture. And the men and women who publish this newspaper would be less than candid, perhaps less than honest, not to admit to a feeling of pride in an accomplishment on behalf of the community and the Okanagan. The prevailing reaction, though, is one of humility. The importance of this documentary was its message, not its locale, nor its actors. It showed not necessarily what the Vernon 'News' is, or does, but what any good home town paper should be and should do.

Because the men and women of this firm had a close association with the development of that theme does not attribute any of its merits to us.

Newspapers, especially those published in the smaller centres and therefore in more intimate contact with their readers, critics, supporters, advertisers, are public service institutions. Weekly newspapers depend on their communities for their livelihood and for their being. They are public service institutions and the results of their work, their sins of commission and omission are laid bare for scrutiny each week.

By far the most onerous task of a newspaper is its public service feature. It is in the furtherance of this service to the community that the filming of life in Vernon offered such an opportunity. That the project has been a successful one, on behalf of Vernon, is more than recompense for whatever work and money were expended.

The film itself places Vernon in a kindly light. The treatment of the subject, which is really life in a small community, shows that we lack little of the amenities and have much of the comforts and peace of mind for which millions toil through out the world in far less favorable circumstances.

Church Prayers Proposed For U. N.

A resolution urging that its affiliated churches offer prayers for the success of the United Nations Assembly meetings in Paris has been adopted by the executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

The resolution, passed September 21 simultaneously with opening of the U. N. General Assembly sessions follows:

"Meeting on this opening day of the General Assembly of the United Nations, we pray to Almighty God, ruler of men and of nations, that he may chasten and inspire the hearts of the delegates and of the peoples they represent, so that this important international body may see beyond the clashing interests of men to their common needs, and may recommend wise courses of co-operative action for the general welfare."

"We urge our churches to offer prayers of intercession throughout the course of the General Assembly, and especially on World Order Day, Sunday, October 24, the anniversary of the day on which the Charter of the United Nations became the law of nations."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years, when she had heard of Jesus, came in, pressed behind, and touched his garment. And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague." (Mark 5: 25, 27, 29)

"It is not wise to take a halting and half-way position or to expect to work equally with Spirit and matter, Truth and error. Only through radical healing power on Truth can scientific healing be realized."

Poor Likeness—Gilbert Stuart, the celebrated portrait painter, once met a lady in the street in Boston, who saluted him with:

"Ah, Mr. Stuart, I have just seen your miniature and kissed it because it was so much like you."

"And did it kiss you in return?" "Why, no."

"Then," said Stuart, "It was not like me."

The Woman's Institute held their regular meeting at the Hall on Friday 17th. Roll Call was "Your favorite cookie recipe" with a dozen cookies for a sample. Most members paid fines for neglecting the roll call. The quilt and sick committee made their reports and the treasurer made a financial statement. It was decided to have a community supper on the night of the bazaar, November 19 and other feature attractions were discussed. A letter from Cancer Clinic was read and it was noted that each family pay $1.00 for tea collection next meeting and the money be sent to the Cancer Fund. All members are urged to bring old woollens next meeting to be sent for blanket manufacture. The sewing materials for the bazaar have arrived and members may obtain work by seeing Mrs. Don Dougan. Several lots of cookies were auctioned netting $2.00 to the funds.

Mrs. Albert Mercer was hostess for the day and served a delicious lunch to sixteen members. Mrs. Wm. Otto and Mrs. J. Godfrey were welcome visitors. Mrs. Otto has been a member here for many years and all were glad to see her. Next meeting at the Hall is October 8th.

The Hall Committee very much appreciate the support received at the hall dance. The music was good, the floor in excellent dancing condition and the crowd lively so it was a really good time.

The next dance will be on Oct. 8 when the Nightingale Country Pals are sponsoring a dance with a short program. Mrs. Whittaker's orchestra will supply the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hamilton who were weekend visitors at the Stoodley farm have moved to Edmonton when Norman will attend University this year.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Harriman and daughter Mrs. Miller motored to Morrin for a weekend visit with Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hildahl. Penard had the bad luck to have his barn burned from lightning.

Nightingale District has had its face lifted this summer. The roads have been improved and considerable gravel spread. Mr. Glover has moved his house across the track beside the store to a much better location. The senior school room has been moved to a foundation and it and the teacherage have been painted. Newall Brothers have put a foundation under their house that has been remodeled and stuccoed. Mrs. Carlson has had her house and garage painted and it shows up nicely among the trees. Mr. Walls' new home is being furnished and has been stuccoed. Clarence Putnam is building a new home and Mr. Harry Tschutter is moving his house onto the hill where Mr. Benson once had his home.

"Good day Madam! we're making a nation-wide SURVEY of FAMILY EXPENSES"

HERE'S WHY YOU SHOULD CO-OPERATE

Every month the Dominion Bureau of Statistics issues the cost-of-living index. Consumers groups, trade unions, employers, the government and many others know the importance of accurate figures on the cost of living.

To keep the basis of the index up-to-date the Bureau is doing a survey across Canada to find out what percentage of income the average family spent on food, clothing, shelter, recreation, and other items in the past year.

We don't call at all homes. We can get a good picture by questioning a fraction of all families, chosen "out of a hat". If yours is chosen it will represent many other families like it in size, composition or income.

Don't worry if you don't know exactly how much you spent on everything. You will know some of your expenses accurately, but we realize you will have to estimate others. The Bureau representative will gladly help you fill out the questionnaire.

All Bureau representatives carry identification cards. Information you give to the Bureau is strictly confidential. No other source, public or private, can gain access to the information you give about yourself or your family.

If you happen to be in the sample of Canadian families, please give the Bureau representative full co-operation. You will be performing a worthwhile service as a citizen.

Hervey Notes

Many farmers have finished gathering in the harvest and are looking forward for a big crop next year.

The big price for pork makes us wonder why some one cannot produce a hog that would chew the cud.

Many of us wish that the editor of The Standard would inform us of the habits of the land gull that all might become interested in providing sanctuaries, especially the W.I.D. and the Councilors. With plenty of water why cannot we prepare to fight grasshoppers the easy way.

We wonder if the Russian paper Pragma were printed in English, if it would be full of bank robberies and murder for money. Surely some one in Strathmore is versed in Communism who could enlighten us. Is Communism as frightened of other forms of government as we are of Communism?

What might have been a very serious accident happened last Thursday afternoon when Mr. G. H. Godfrey had the misfortune to collide with the School Bus, turning it completely over. Luckily Mr. Dawson was on his return trip and only one child was travelling in the bus. Mr. Godfrey had his son Warren with him, but no one was hurt. Both bus and car received broken fenders, etc. The cause of the accident, we think, was due to a blind corner, and visibility was "nill". Both drivers were travelling at a very slow rate of speed at the time which was a great blessing. Otherwise the accident might have been much worse. Let us hope this may never happen again, life is too precious.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Olson entertained a few friends at a Dinner Tuesday evening.

In other words, the manager of your branch bank and his whole staff are working for you.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a public official working for the State! State monopoly of banking, proposed by Socialists here, would open your banking transactions to political intrusion.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

When you make a serious mistake do you brood over it? Or do you try to ignore it?

Actually, neither of these reactions is desirable. You will be wiser to follow these simple rules:

1. After making a mistake, admit that you made it. If it causes trouble or inconvenience to others, make an honest confession to those involved. Don't try to "pass the buck". If it involves no other people, admit your error to yourself.

2. Try to profit by your mistakes. We learn many of life's most valuable lessons through trial and error. Even big mistakes can serve a useful purpose by making us wiser and more alert.

3. Don't worry excessively. "To err is human." Others concerned soon forgive and forget.

Remember, too, that you can often prevent things from going wrong in the first place by cultivating greater concentration and thoroughness in everything you do.

Sometimes mistakes have tragic consequences. Many widows have a difficult time providing for themselves and their children because their husbands left them so little to live on. This mistake is never made by men who own adequate life insurance.

A farmer was having difficulty filling out a government claim sheet for a cow that had been killed accidentally. He came to the last item: "Disposition of the carcass." Puzzling over the question for some time, he finally wrote: "Kind and gentle."

The youth heaved a deep sigh.

"Yes, doctor, I have," he replied,

"but you haven't got her name right."

"Lend me five dollars, old man," said the first man.

"Lending," said the second man, sentimentally. "Often spoils friendship, and ours is worth more."

"All right, make it ten."

Chief Crowfoot Memorial Unveiled

Around twelve hundred people attended the unveiling of the Memorial in honor of Crowfoot, Chief of the Blackfoot Indians at Gleichen Sunday September 26, 1948.

Joseph Crowfoot—grandson of the famous Chief, was one of three Indians dressed in fancy feathered head-dress and costume of white buckskin feathers and beads. Four young squaws were dressed in elegant white buckskin with beautiful designs in colored beads and head-dresses of colored beads in flag design. Two flags decorated the front of head-dress.

Indian Scouts were in attendance, dressed in uniform and the Red-coated Police were very colorful in their uniform. Cpl. R. N. Yates had charge of the local detachment of the R.C.M.P.

"But for the influence of Crowfoot, our Canadian West might have been drawn into the bitter Indian wars like those in the United States," said Senator F. W. Genshaw of Medicine Hat, at the ceremony. "This grass would have been stained red with blood and our early prairie settlements would have been destroyed."

Joseph Crowfoot, grandson of the great chief unveiled the memorial to his illustrious forebearer. Beside him were Duck Chief, head of the Blackfoot, Edward Yellowknife and other leaders of the band. Respects of the Blood Indians were paid by Chief Shot on Both Sides; the Peigans by Chief Philip Big Swan; of the Stonies by Chief Enos Hunter and Chief Jacob Two Young Man; and of the Sarcees by Chief David Crowchild.

Prof. M. H. Long of Edmonton presented the memorial in behalf of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada which represents the government of the Dominion of Canada.

Rev. E. S. W. Cole, principal of Old Sun School, gave the opening invocation.

The new memorial carries this inscription:

"Crowfoot, great chief of the Blackfoot Confederacy, born about 1830, died 25th April, 1890. Fearless in war but lover of peace, he promoted amity among the tribes of the plains and friendship with the white man. Under his leadership the Blackfoot ceded to the Crown title to their tribal lands in 1877, began to adopt a sedentary life and remained loyal during the North West Rebellion of 1885. His nobility of character, his gift of oratory and his wisdom and counsel gained for him the title 'Father of his people'."

Senator Genshaw recalled that the Sioux Indians of the United States, bent on defending with their lives their exclusive right to their land, had tried to persuade the Blackfoot Confederacy to join with them in a campaign of extermination of the whites. The slaughter of General Custer and 264 U.S. soldiers in south-eastern Montana in 1876—that was the pattern the Sioux tried to urge on the Blackfoot. But Crowfoot stood firm. While some of his lesser chiefs were tempted to go to war, Crowfoot's wiser counsel prevailed.

Crowfoot's courage and spirit were likened to those of Winston Churchill by Senator Genshaw. "Though our enemies be as many as the stars, yet will we defend our lodges" was accounted as great an utterance as Churchill's "We will fight them on the beaches."

Planning today
YOUR CROP OF THE FUTURE

DEVELOPING harder strains of earlier-maturing grains... overcoming the ravages of rust... waging unceasing warfare against insect pests... battling to eradicate or control weeds... there has been no respite through the past half century for the scientific agriculturist, the forward looking farmer, or the wide-awake firm whose business is integrated with the production and marketing of grain in Western Canada.

One of the most important phases of this never-ending striving for better crops is the present-day development of weed control. A pioneer in this field, and proud of it, is the National Grain Company Limited, which through its Agricultural Department, working with Governments and Universities, has carried on innumerable tests of chemicals, their methods of application, their effects upon weeds and crops.

In a recent issue of Life Magazine (August 30th, 1948), a full page illustration in color pictures a remarkable demonstration of the effectiveness of chemical weed control by spraying growing crops with 2,4-D in Minnesota and the Dakotas. The National Grain Co. Ltd. has carried out in Canada the identical program of chemical weed control that Life Magazine has so well recognized in the United States. The same chemicals and methods were used in both programs.

Crop yields have been materially increased through this method of chemical weed control, but much work remains to be done in the field of research and field testing of equipment, before the planners of today can rest from their labors to improve the crop of tomorrow. The Agricultural Department of National Grain will continue its activities in every development phase of chemical weed control.

Keep in touch with your local National Grain Agent for latest information on the battle against crop-destroying farm weeds.
